Dulles Rejects Idea Sen. McCarthy Is "Dictating" State Dept. Policies

Secretary Says
He Plans Shakeup

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the State Department needs a shakeup and he is just the man to do it. He rejected any idea that department policies are being "dictated" by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) or other congressional investigators.

Dulles said, however, that he welcomed any disclosures from congressional inquiries which would make the department more "competent, loyal and secure."

The new secretary thus dealt with published suggestions that the McCarthy investigation has damaged State Department morale and effectiveness and that the Eisenhower administration was becoming unhappy over the situation.

Dulles said that with some 42,000 employees at home and overseas, the department is overstuffed and some of its methods needlessly cumbersome. He estimated it would take six months or more before the situation is put into "satisfactory shape" through a reorganization already started by Donald B. Lourie, former Chicago businessman and the new under secretary for administration.

Meantime, Dulles said he had no evidence of low morale or disloyalty but acknowledged his own personal contacts thus far were limited to about a score of top officials.

Dulles spoke out on his attitude toward the McCarthy investigation in a statement and in replies to news conference questions.

Earlier McCarthy said he had information that the morale of "really good Americans" in the State Department was at an all-time high. He said he referred to those "who have been opposed to Soviet Russia and the Acheson policies."

"The only people whose morale is low," he said, "are those who have something to fear and who don't want to see the light approaching their dark corner."

The morale of the others has risen, he said, "since Eisenhower and Dulles adopted a firm policy toward Russia and since we have been exposing the old Acheson lieutenants."

McCarthy made plain he had no intention of letting up on his Senate subcommittee inquiry into security affairs and the Voice of America.

East German Refugee Flow Hits New Peak

BERLIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—The refugee flow from the Soviet zone to West Berlin burst into hysterical proportions tonight. Twenty-five hundred men, women and children fled to the West during the day, bringing February's total to 38,300.

Since the first of the year, 63,000 East Germans have deserted the Communist state, leaving their possessions and ancestral ties behind.

Harried West Berlin and West German authorities stepped up the airlift of refugees out of Berlin to an average of 700-800 daily, and promised they would manage an average of 1,100 in the next 10 days. Meantime, 85 refugee camps were bulging with families which are mostly destitute but prefer to start anew in the West to living under Communist pressure in the East.

Montgomery's Son Weds

GLASGOW, Scotland, Feb. 27 (AP)—David Montgomery, 24-year-old son of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, was married at St. Mary's Cathedral here today to Mary Connell, 25, daughter of a Scottish shipping magnate.

Scantly-Clad Coeds March On Residence Of Churchill

LONDON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Seven pretty coeds, their claws sharpened for a fight, marched on Prime Minister Churchill's residence today in sequined tights, bikini bathing suits and black fishnet stockings.

It was an eye-catching protest demonstration by the girls, from Reading University, over what they called an "outrageous insult" to the men of the university.

The men had invited three French girls to lead the annual carnival tomorrow, declaring it was an "outrageous insult" to the prime minister.

Today's Chuckle

"We want to give the men of our university an eyeful of what to expect on Saturday and also to show London what the French girls had to compete with," said Brenda

Price Proposes Will Be Continued On Dairy Products

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration announced today it will continue to support butter and other dairy prices at a high level for another year, as falling farm prices triggered a soaring debate on the Senate floor.

The Senate fireworks began when Sen. Bridges (R-NH) blamed the recent Democratic administrations for "declining farm prices, lowered net farm income, and unmanageable surpluses."

Bridges said the new secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, is "determined to take effective steps to restore again to American agriculture, stability, freedom of action, and local control."

Asserting the farm outlook for 1953 and 1954 is relatively good, Bridges said "there are some readjustments that must be made," and added:

"I do not stand here and propose that this administration outprices the New Deal or the 'Fair Deal.'"

This brought a roar from the Democratic side, with Senators Kerr (D-Oklahoma) and Humphrey (D-Minn) accusing Bridges of urging lower prices and incomes for farmers this year.

Humphrey called Bridges' speech "the beginning of the repudiation of a campaign pledge."

Joining in the attack, which continued for nearly an hour, Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.) said the Republicans now are telling the farmers:

"We're going to reduce your prices ... and reduce your standard of living."

Kerr said the GOP farm slogan appears to be "you must produce more and more for less and less."

Finally Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee took the floor and said sarcastically he expects to see Kerr leading a march of Oklahoma cattlemen on Washington. Speaking of farmers with private airplanes, caviar and other luxuries, he said he hopes they give full credit to "the windmill and oil well." He apparently referred to Humphrey, a versatile speaker, and Kerr, a multimillionaire oil man.

Jets Destroy Red Training Center

SEOUL, Saturday, Feb. 28 (AP)—Thunderjets stepped up their ever-bolder Manchurian border strikes Friday with a fiery raid on a Communist training center within three minutes flying time of the huge Red MIG jet base at Antung, Manchuria.

The MIGs made no move to interfere while the F86s turned the training center at Chusan, about 30 miles east of Antung into a mass of flames.

Sabre jets screened the Thunderjets, ready to pounce on the Russian-built MIGs if they dared to show up.

When the Thunderjets ranged up the center of Korea a week ago and struck the border city of Manpojin, more than 100 miles northeast of Antung, Sabres had to beat off scores of MIGs stung into action.

Friday's target at Chusan was right in the middle of MIG Alley—the corridor down which the MIGs frequently dart in numbers far exceeding those of the Sabres.

F86 pilots said they destroyed 20 buildings at Chusan. It is between Yongsan and Tappong on the main supply road to the war front leading down from the Border City of Uiju.

Explosions Kill 12

GALICANO, Italy, Feb. 27 (AP)—Four explosions ripped a gunpowder plant near this mountain town today and killed 12 workers.

Three other men are missing and presumed dead and 10 wounded.

Fire Damages Hotel

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 27 (AP)—Fire, touched off by a spark from a painter's blowtorch, damaged four guest rooms at the Chelsea Hotel on the Boardwalk today.

They scared off the three French girls chosen "ambassadors of goodwill," for the French girls cancelled their trip from Paris.

The company and the CIO-United Rubber Workers announced they have reached a "basis of agreement" in contract talks at Dayton, O.

Earlier, union officers had ordered their members to be ready to strike at midnight if no settlement is reached. Late this afternoon, a company-union statement said all workers should continue production "without interruption."

AKRON, O., Feb. 27 (AP)—All plans for a strike by 30,000 workers in 10 cities against the giant Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company tonight have been canceled.

The announcement practically assured Senate passage of the measure. Della commanded support of six other Democrats in a

Francis A. Wagner, 23, Milwaukee, Wis., explains to police how he he swam out into Elliott Bay at Seattle yesterday in an effort to hook a ride on a troopship bound for the Far East. Wagner said the Army turned him down and that he was trying to get to Korea so he could fight Communists. Wagner was released after questioning by police and military officers.

Dulles Lays Down 'Handshake' Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he will refuse to shake hands with Russia's Andrei Vishinsky unless the Soviet foreign minister first extended his hand.

Dulles said this in commenting on the action of Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, who refused to be photographed shaking hands with Vishinsky at the General Assembly session.

Asked whether he was to be approved of the action, Dulles noted with a smile that there is no policy directly concerning such matters.

And, he told a news conference, the decision whether to shake hands is a matter of personal taste. He added that he would not shake hands with Vishinsky unless the first move was made by the Soviet U. N. spokesman.

Education Probe Witness Facing Contempt Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee voted today to recommend a contempt citation for a witness who refused to help it in its search for Communists in the field of education.

Chairman Velde (R-III) issued a statement saying the witness was "tentatively identified" as Barrows Dunham. He added that Dunham was subpoenaed Feb. 12 when he was employed as a professor of philosophy at Temple University, Philadelphia.

Dunham appeared at a private session of the committee this morning. Velde said he refused to answer questions regarding his identity.

A transcript of the proceedings indicated that Dunham was accompanied by a Philadelphia lawyer, Philip Dorfman.

Dunham gave his name, the record showed, but when asked when and where he was born he said, "at this point I shall seek the protection of the Fifth Amendment and decline to answer that question on the ground it may tend to incriminate me."

The Fifth Amendment to the Constitution permits a person to refuse to testify against himself. Later the witness said he was born at Mount Holly, N. J., Oct. 10, 1905. Then he fell silent again.

Members of the committee intend to take up soon the case of another uncommunicative witness, Dr. Wendell Fury, a Harvard University physicist.

Fury refused yesterday to tell the committee whether he is or ever was a Red. Later, however, he issued a statement to the press saying he is not a member of the Communist Party and had never done anything to injure the United States.

Head Of University Resigns In Row Over Administration

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 27 (AP)—university's law school faculty told Dr. Clarence R. Decker resigned yesterday.

Decker formally announced his resignation as president of the University of Kansas City, climaxing a resignation at the meeting of the campus-wide upheaval over the school faculty late this afternoon.

The first knowledge of Decker's move came at a noon meeting of the vice-president and three deans resigned, contending the president was the greatest single obstacle to sound growth of the school.

Student mass meetings, a partial boycott of classes and a vote of "no confidence" in Decker by the Kimble attributed low interest charges on state bonds to the fact investors are confident of the value of real estate. Not certain of the proceeds of other taxes, they might shave the rate from the current average of 1.8 per cent to 3 or 4 per cent, Kimble said.

In another development, Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County) introduced a bill to place the governor on the Board of Revenue Estimates.

Turnbull is one of the insurgents who have chastised the board for allowing huge surpluses to grow by underestimating at the start how much the state will have available to spend.

He said he wanted "to put the responsibility" on the governor.

His measure also would allow the governor to appoint one other member to the board, which would retain the comptroller, treasurer and budget director.

Turnbull also proposed requiring the board to consult the Legislative Council before completing its estimates.

The Senate Finance Committee decided to hold up one of the insurgents' old bills to see whether it would fit in with the automatic reduction plan and whether appropriations could be cut to make it possible.

The bill would remove the sales tax from household fuels. It would cost the state an estimated $3,600,000.

Three Boys Held In Cop Shooting

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 (AP)—Three boys, only 14 and 15 years old but described as tough and hardened, were arrested today in connection with the shooting of an off-duty police sergeant and a 12-year-old girl.

Two of them had the names of gangsters carved on their arms.

Sgt. Otto Urban, 51, was seriously injured in the affray last night, although a .22 bullet went through his chest no more than six inches from his heart and then broke one of his arms.

A second slug glanced off the ground and nicked Evelyn Follin, the sergeant's neighbor, on the knee. She was coming up the alley behind their homes, returning from the corner store, and Urban was questioning the boys about their hanging around the neighborhood.

"Get back copper, I've seen dozens of those tin badges," Urban quoted one of the boys as saying before he pulled out a pistol and opened fire.

A patrolman picked up two of the boys as they were buying buns this morning in a bakery. The third was arrested shortly after police started questioning the first two. Officers announced all three had made statements.

Specifically, it denounces the persecution of Greek Orthodox congregations, the imprisonment of Roman Catholic prelates, the harassment of Protestants, the suppression of Moslem communities, the persecution and scattering of ethnic groups in Poland, the Ukraine, the Baltic and the Balkans, and the increasing persecution of the Jews.

Blast Of A-Bomb Could Blind You Five Miles Away

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 27 (AP)—Two Air Force scientists reported today that if you happen to be looking directly at the spot where an atomic bomb explodes—even if it's five miles or more away—you'll probably be blinded.

But the chance that you'll be watching exactly the right part of the sky at exactly the right instant to see the blinding flash is less than one in 15,000.

This is the conclusion of two specialists who studied the medical effects at nuclear fission at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base at Randolph Air Force Base here.

The President spent most of the first full day of his week-end vacation out on the sun-bathed course at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Private Investment Abroad

President Eisenhower said in his State of the Union message that the government should do whatever it "properly can to encourage the flow of private American investment abroad." Three weeks before the President addressed Congress, Senators Capchart (R., Ind.) and Maybank (D., S.C.), one the chairman and the other the ranking minority member of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, had jointly introduced a resolution calling for a thorough study of means of increasing foreign investment.

More extensive investment of American private capital abroad has been generally advocated to step up the production of foreign raw materials on which the United States is increasingly dependent, to promote economic development of backward areas, and to expand world trade and strengthen the economic foundations of the free world. A larger outflow of private capital would help to finance the merchandise export surplus of the United States and so ease the dollar shortage. In the long run, it ought to reduce, to some extent, the need for foreign aid.

Business and individual investors began to take an increasing interest in foreign ventures around the turn of the century, but it was not until after World War I that investment capital began to flow abroad in large amounts. During the 1920s direct investments by corporations in foreign properties nearly doubled, while enthusiastic public buying of foreign government bonds tripled so-called portfolio investments. As a result, total foreign investments, valued at just under $7 billion in 1919, reached $17 billion in 1929.

The world-wide depression put a halt to new direct investment and brought a wave of defaults on foreign bonds that soured the American public on that type of investment. The economic damage and disruption caused by World War II increased the need of foreign countries for outside capital but simultaneously made it impossible for them to borrow in private markets. The U.S. government went to their assistance, not only with grants in aid, but with direct loans, loans through the Export-Import Bank, and a subscription to the capital of the new World Bank which provided an additional source of dollar loans.

American corporate investment abroad began to revive in 1947 and has since increased by an average of about $1 billion a year. The total of direct investments rose from about $8 billion in 1945 to around $14 billion today, but portfolio investment has remained virtually stationary in the neighborhood of $5 billion or $6 billion. U.S. government loans in a total of around $14 billion equal the total of private direct investments and accordingly bulk large in the short-term items, currently stands at more than $36 billion.

There has been talk of stepping up the rate of new private foreign investment from the present $1 billion a year to something like $4 billion a year. To achieve such a large addition to the annual outflow of private capital—if in fact it can be achieved—will require not only improvement of the general climate for foreign investment but also the offering of positive incentives. The principal proposed direct incentives are government guarantees against non-business risks for capital abroad and total or partial tax exemption for income from foreign investments.

Guarantees against inconvertibility of foreign earnings and against expropriation are already available under foreign aid legislation but have been largely ignored. It has been contended, however, that an attractive guarantee system could be devised. Although the United States allows a credit for taxes paid to foreign governments, the credit assures only against double taxation. If foreign taxes are lower than the American tax on equivalent income, the taxpayer must pay the difference to the United States and therefore may be at a disadvantage in competing abroad with foreign companies. With investment opportunities at home exerting a strong counter-attraction, it is maintained that preferential tax treatment is needed to tempt capital to assume the greater risks involved in foreign investment.

Error Or Sabotage?

The Senate Investigations subcommittee has a whodunit on its hands regarding the "Voice of America" overseas broadcast project. Certainly the evidence already turned up seems to call for prosecutions.

The "Voice" is only one of the State Department's information programs which are under review for budgetary purposes. But the question has come up about the location of two of the master transmitters which are now being built in this country.

The East Coast transmitter, located near Wilmington, N. C., is supposed to bounce programs overseas to a relay station at Munich, for retransmittal to countries behind the iron curtain. A transmitter located near Seattle, Wash., is being built to feed "Voice" programs to a Manila relay point, to be beamed to China and Southeast Asia.

A former radio engineer who worked on the "Voice" project told the Senate subcommittee that both stations are located on sites which reduce their effectiveness approximately 90 per cent. His conclusion is that error involved in the locations is so glaring it must have been planned.

As the engineer explained it, both stations lie within the "auroral absorption belt," which he explained—for the benefit of laymen—is a zone of maximum interference. Had the stations been located farther south they could have achieved the same signal strength with one-tenth the power output and at one-tenth of the cost, or $1,000,000 as against an estimated $10,000,000 each.

The engineer has offered to call in an impressive array of scientific experts from industry who, he says, will back him up.

Naturally, construction on both stations has been halted while the Senate subcommittee calls in more witnesses, especially those in charge of the "Voice" program, to discover who selected the sites and who approved the selections.

Was it an error, or was it a "planned" error which amounts to a net piece of sabotage? This is a question every red-blooded American wants answered, and at once.

It is interesting to imagine what Russians, who claim American farmers live in hovels, would say if they could see our little girls running around bare-legged on a February morning.

There are celestial formations of dust it would take the earth 1,000 years to pass through. It is claimed. That's worse than anything the dust bowl ever produced.

How To Keep Well

Poet Burns Had

Rheumatic Fever

Robert Burns, the great 18th century Scottish poet, died at the age of 37 from rheumatic heart disease. His life was short but productive and demonstrated how much can be accomplished despite physical handicaps. Had he been born into this generation and received the benefits of medical research he unquestionably would have reached the biblical three score and 10.

Burns probably had rheumatic fever early in childhood followed by leakage of the heart. He was not aware of his plight nor were his physicians because the stethoscope had not been invented and medics were thoroughly confused on the nature of the disease. Furthermore, Robert, the elder son of a poor and tuberculous farmer, was forced to spend much of his time in the field doing manual labor. This type of work rarely is associated with poets but plowing inspired Burns to compose many of his most touching verses, which he wrote when the day's work was done. "The Mountain Daisy" and "The Mouse" are in this group.

This unrelenting toll unquestionably affected his heart. He also suffered from recurring attacks of rheumatic fever and often spent weeks in bed. Modern physicians would recognize in Burns many of the traits that go along with rheumatic fever. It is a generalized disease that involves not only the heart valves and joints but the skin, brain, and other tissues. Victims usually are thin, wiry, high-strung, and sensitive, highly intelligent and somewhat nervous. This combination leaves them excited over games and amusements but otherwise timid and shy.

When Burns was offered a post as plantation manager in the West Indies, he sold his poems to obtain money for the passage, but he never left Scotland. The change in climate undoubtedly would have done more than anything his physicians could offer. The West Indies are out of the rheumatic belt and rheumatic fever patients have fewer recurrences when they leave the north to live in the south.

From the days of his youth Burns was addicted not only to poetry but to women and alcohol. On recovering from a bout of rheumatic fever he attended a tavern dinner which lasted until the wee hours. He staggered out the door and fell into a snowbank where he slept for a few hours. Shortly thereafter his symptoms returned with renewed vigor and six months later he was dead. In this interval he probably developed an active infection in the heart such as subacute bacterial endocarditis.

This disturbance was invariably fatal until the advent of penicillin. It is partial to victims of rheumatic heart disease and is caused by streptococcal invasion of the damaged heart valve, usually as a complication of sore throat or tonsilitis. This is one of the reasons why individuals with leakage of the heart must be careful to avoid colds. The life of Burns would have been prolonged with the help of our modern cardiologists and heart associations. Continued research is needed so that we can control all types of heart trouble in the future.

EFFECTS OF VIRUS

Mrs. K. L. writes: I have had a virus condition for 10 months which has not been affected by cold shots, penicillin, or sulfa tablets. Is it curable?

REPLY

Yes. Although virus infections may linger for many months they disappear ultimately. Now and then, however, symptoms of psychogenic origin are overlooked in the presence of viral infection. One of our readers recently wrote us about his wife, who suffered an attack of encephalitis several years ago. Her lack of endurance, ambition, and self-confidence were blamed on the virus but after a few psychiatric treatments the woman improved to the extent that she now is leading a normal life.

WRIST CYST

D. F. writes: Is a ganglion on the wrist the same as bursitis?

REPLY

No. These small masses that appear on the back of the wrist are cysts originating from fibrous tissue of the joint capsule. Cure follows complete removal.

GOOD TEST

F. B. writes: Will a urinalysis show kidney trouble if it is present?

REPLY

A urinalysis is one of the best, easiest, and cheapest tests for kidney disease.

LOW CEILINGS

M. W. writes: Rooms with low ceilings bother me, and when I go into a restaurant with a low ceiling I develop a feeling of suffocation and have to leave before eating. This is considered a phobia?

REPLY

Yes. It is related to claustrophobia, a fear of inclosed spaces.

GO AHEAD

L. W. writes: Can a diabetic who uses insulin safely take penicillin for an infection?

REPLY

Does W. Bradley Connors, who is in charge of policy, know anything about all this? Mark his words.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

GOP Executives In Huddle Over Wesley Roberts Matter; Fear Comeback From Furore Over Boyle's Fee; Washington Newcomers Are Early Risers

themselves raised Cain over a fee one-tenth as large — $1,250 — paid to Democratic Chairman Bill Boyle in connection with an RFC loan to the American Lithofold Co. and they frankly say they fear Roberts' $11,000 fee will boomerang. Hence, today's special meeting.

Specifically, what Republican leaders are worried about is the sale of a hospital to the State of Kansas which already stood on state-owned land, and on which GOP Chairman Wesley Roberts collected a commission of $11,000.

Why, say many Kansas Republicans, should Kansas have bought the hospital for $11,000 when the state owned it anyway? And why should Roberts, who was not registered as a lobbyist, have collected $11,000 — a 10 per cent commission?

Republicans recall that they themselves raised Cain over a fee one-tenth as large — $1,250 — paid to Democratic Chairman Bill Boyle in connection with an RFC loan to the American Lithofold Co. and they frankly say they fear Roberts' $11,000 fee will boomerang. Hence, today's special meeting.

Background of the story goes back to 1927, when the Ancient Order of United Workmen, a fraternal insurance organization, built a hospital on state property alongside the state tuberculosis sanatorium in Norton, Kans. The latter was crowded at the time, AOUW couldn't get its members in, so it was agreed that state doctors would care for AOUW patients in the AOUW hospital alongside the state hospital.

Time passed, membership in the Ancient Order of United Workmen dwindled, and by 1951 it had only one patient in the building, all the others being state patients. So, in March 1951, the state legislature appropriated $110,000 to buy the hospital — despite the fact that Kansas Attorney General William Smith, now on the Kansas Supreme Court, had stated when the building was built in 1928: "The building will belong to the state, and the state will be its entire charge."

Also attached to the building contract when it was signed in 1927, was a letter from state Business Manager Charles S. Huffman: "Should the AOUW in the future wish to withdraw its interest, the pavilion will become the property of the state."

When the building was finally sold to the state in 1951, no record was filed of the $11,000 to Wesley Roberts. This leaked out only a few days ago.

Roberts, at that time, had spent four years as Republican state chairman and was one of the most powerful politicians in the state. Incidentally, he was a Taft rooster until less than a year ago.

Kansas GOP legislators, learning of the Roberts Commission, were quick to demand a full probe. But Governor Ed Arn at first said no. Simultaneously, the White House issued a statement that President Eisenhower had investigated the matter and was satisfied with Roberts' behavior.

Ike's action brought an immediate protest from another eminent Republican, Alf Landon, 1936 candidate for President. Later the same day, Governor Arn changed his mind about defending Roberts, issued a press release giving the green light to a full investigation.

"Meantime," said legislator John MacNair in a speech before the Kansas House of Representatives, "if the sale were a simple matter of the legislature buying a building on the recommendation of state officials, why did the company have to pay Roberts $11,000 of the taxpayers' money?"

President Aide Bob Cutler, the ex-Boston banker, starts work at 7 a. m., frequently stays at his desk until 10 p. m. Vice President Nixon doesn't like razor blades. He uses an electric shaver

Arkansas' Congressman Jim (Judge) Trimble gets to work each morning at 6:45. Dozens of Capitol Hill employees study law at night, hope someday to be elected to Congress. Republicans have agreed to keep all Democrats on the payroll who are graduating from law school this June.

Staffers of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, all recently fired, are considering selling apples outside the White House as a protest.

Miners' boss John L. Lewis has been stunned by the recent death of CIO President Phil Murray, AFL leader Bill Green, and CIO Vice President Allan Haywood.

... Congressman visiting Ike for a "get acquainted" luncheon are greeted at the door by an official who shows them, via diagram, exactly where they're to sit at the table.

... Congressman Glen Davis, Wisconsin Republican, doesn't bother to hide his ambition to unseat fellow Republican Sen. Alex Wiley. When Wisconsin's Republican congressmen meet for breakfast each Tuesday, they bow with mock reverence to "Senator" Davis. He seems to enjoy being kidded about his political ambitions — smiles and continues his subtle attacks on Senator Wiley.

That question ought to be answered not by Connors but by General George Marshall and by Dean Acheson, who pushed this man into high responsibility for which he himself stated that he had no preparation. This is typical of the kind of men employed, the justification usually being that they are not "controversial personalities."

While in Washington, Adlai Stevenson gave his OK to three men as possible new chairman of the Democratic National Committee—Ohio's Mike DiSalle, Boston's Maurice Tobin, and Washington, D. C., Commissioner "Jiggs" Donohue.

AFL Bus Union Views Differ On New Pact

The president of Local 1110, Bus Drivers Union, AFL, yesterday pointed out several financial facts in the operations of Cumberland Transit Lines that support the local's wage increase request.

The contract between the Cumberland company and the union expires at midnight today and a meeting has been scheduled between the negotiators today at 10 a. m.

James H. Morrison, union president, stated that while the company has a loss in revenues of $88,330.29 from 1950 to 1952, it also had a decrease in operating expenses in the same period of $104,281.07.

Reported Far Apart

A spokesman said the company and the union are "far apart" on the settlement of a new working agreement.

Morrison's statement follows:

"We wish to clarify some of the statements printed in Thursday's paper pertaining to the negotiations between Cumberland Transit Lines and Division 1110.

"We feel that in figuring average wages the total amount of money spent for drivers' wages should be divided by the number of drivers working during the year's period. If figuring on this basis, then the average driver's wage for the year would be approximately $3,515.74 instead of $3,953.22 as quoted by Mr. (Guy M.) Davis.

"In order to make $4,576.78 for the year it was necessary to work almost 39 hours a week on the average. The shopmen on the same basis would average $2,746.73 instead of $3,740.47 as quoted by Mr. Davis.

Expenses Also Drop

"The revenue, according to company figures, has dropped from $423,641.60 in 1950 to $355,311.31 in 1952 or a total loss in revenue of $88,330.29 for that period. At the same time the company's expenses have dropped from $437,027.58 in 1950 to $332,746.51 in 1952 which is a cut in expenses of $104,281.07.

"The company claims to have operated at a loss in 1950 and 1951, but, at the same time, has increased the officers' salaries from $10,200 in 1950 to $13,300 in 1952, or a total increase of $3,100 for that period plus an expense account. It is the union's desire to negotiate the contract before the expiration date in order not to inconvenience the public."

"It is expected that Mrs. Margaret Kimble, deputy commissioner of the State Department of Labor and Industry and C. Stanley Cleveren, federal conciliator will be present at the meeting today at 10 a. m."

In the contract signed a year ago the pact provided for three weeks vacation for drivers with 15 years or more of service, a uniform allowance of $50 annually, payable June 1 and October 1, and a wage clause of $1.50 an hour for drivers and $1.51 an hour for mechanics.

Salary Increase For Nurse Sought By Area Delegation

A delegation of 12 women from Corriganville, Ellerslie and Bowman's Addition appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to request that the county public health nurse serving their district be given a salary increase.

Members of the board told the group it would take into consideration the request when the levy is drawn in April.

Included in the group appearing before the board were Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mrs. James Bittner, Mrs. John Greise, Mrs. Nora Bowman, Mrs. James Coleman, Mrs. Louis Hast and Mrs. Herman Greise, all of the Bowman's Addition and Valley Road areas; Mrs. Albert Snelson, and Mrs. William Barnard, both of Corriganville, and Mrs. Daniel Drew, Mrs. Floyd Miller, Mrs. Alma Conners of Ellerslie.

The women said Mrs. Elizabeth Rosenmerkel, R. N., who has been serving their districts at clinics and in other public health activities, has been doing a "wonderful job." They said she goes beyond her normal duties in aiding the sick and afflicted in the areas under her jurisdiction. They pointed out that they fear they may lose her services if some salary increase is not granted.

Letters were also received from several groups in support of the proposed school expansion program. Adolph Norris, superintendent of the Pleasant Grove Methodist Church Sunday School, asks that every consideration be given to new additions for Flintstone issue.

High School.

A letter from L. V. Shinnamont, president, and Thelma Beachley, secretary of the LaVale Parent-Teacher Association, asked that the overall program be supported by the commissioners. Mrs. Edgar T. Duke, chairman of the Building Committee for the LaVale PTA, also wrote asking that the plans entailed in the Board of Education program be furthered by passage of the $6,000,000 bond issue.

W.Va. Delegates Halt Move To Sell Drinks In Veteran And Fraternal Organization Bars

Drys Win Lengthy Debate By Decisive Vote Of 67 To 26

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 27 (UPI) — House dry leaders gathered enough support today to beat decisively a bill to permit sale of liquor by the drink in veterans and fraternal organizations' clubrooms.

The bill, sponsored by Freshman Del. Chilton (D-Kinawha), was defeated, 67-26, after lengthy debate.

It would have permitted fraternal and veterans' groups which are national in scope to sell liquor by the drink, now forbidden under state law.

Revenues from license fees and a tax on the sale would have been earmarked for secondary road purposes.

The only delegates arguing for passage of Chilton's bill were Watson (D-Marion), Fumich (D-Monongalia), and Johnston (D-Mercer).

A legislative move to identify state-owned automobiles as such reached the half-way mark of achievement today.

The House passed, 88-8, and sent to the Senate a bill which would require special tags, in lieu of license registration plates, for state automobiles.

They would be black and white tags to be worn at the front of the cars, bearing the word, "West Virginia" and "State Car." The Motor Vehicles Commissioner would prescribe the number and type of tag for the rear.

The House scheduled its first Saturday session of the 1953 Legislature. That chamber will meet tomorrow morning at 9:30.

House Minority Leader Underwood introduced two resolutions calling for submission of constitutional amendments to the state voters next year.

One proposed amendment would change the opening date for the 60-day biennial session of the Legislature from the second Wednesday in January to the second Wednesday in February.

This is designed to avoid the delay now caused by the recess which the Legislature takes pending the inauguration of a new Governor on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in January every four years.

The other recommended amendment would ban payment of any compensation to a legislator by any agency of the executive branch of government during his term of office.

It also would prohibit his appointment during his term in the Legislature to any civil office, except to such posts as are filled by a vote of the people. A similar present ban applies only to offices which were created by the Legislature during the term in which the member was serving, or to offices which had a salary increase during such a term.

Both resolutions were sent to the judiciary committee.

District Legion Meeting Sunday

Storm, the 38-months-old Doberman Pinscher who won a second successive best-in-show at the Westminster Kennel Club event in New York last week, has been retired from competition.

This remarkable animal's career goes back to May, 1951. He won 25 breed victories in as many shows, 22 group firsts, 17 all-breed bests and two specialties.

Len Carey of Cos Cob, Conn., is his owner.

Post membership chairmen and past junior baseball chairmen are expected to attend, as arrangements for a meeting Friday, March 6 with Robert J. Koch, department baseball chairman, will be made at the session.

All legionnaires and members of the auxiliary have been invited to attend.

(Continued from Page 11) veteran basketball referee, says the new one and one foul ruling and the two free throws in the last three minutes of play have not accomplished their purpose. They have not stopped fouling.

He favors reducing the allowable number of fouls to four from the present five before a player is removed from the game, and reduce the number of players a team can dress for any game to eight or ten.

Menton would like to see the rules committee first try the former, along with one free throw for all normal fouls until the last three minutes of the game, then two free throws as at present.

GEORGE SCHOENADEL, our composing room correspondent, reports an old landmark has been removed at Narrows Park.

It's the old waiting platform that was erected way back in the days street car service was extended to the park. The cars made the loop at that point on their return journey to Cumberland.

Many a good professional boxing show was staged at the park's Roller Rink 30 to 35 years ago. Among the name fighters who appeared there were Harry Greb, Frank Moran, George (KO) Chaney and Eddie Dorsey.

GRANTLAND RICE, veteran sports columnist, who has seen 'em all during the past half century, writes:

"I've always thought that Harry Greb, a great boxer, could whip 90 per cent of the heavyweights around."

Mr. Rice, you've got something there.

The "Pittsburgh Windmill" who never scaled over 158 pounds slaughtered many a heavyweight and light-heavy during the 13 years he boxed, 1913 to 1926. In 1922 he gave Gene Tunney a sound trouncing in New York and made Mr. Dempsey look foolish in Grupp's gym when Jack was in training for the Carpenter fight.

Wouldn't Greb have been a "natural" on television? That fellow could throw more leather in three minutes than present day boxers uncork in 15 rounds.

Both resolutions were sent to the judiciary committee.

Library Display Features Kentucky, Blue Grass State

The Cumberland Free Public Library is resuming its series of state displays with an exhibit on Kentucky, which became the 15th star in the American flag following its admission to the union June 1, 1792.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, local librarian, has compiled considerable data about Kentucky's past and present.

Part of Virginia

Originally the territory was part of Virginia. It was known as Kentucky County, Va., after 1776 until achieving statehood. Kentucky, incidentally, is an Indian word which means "Land of Tomorrow." Because of the early struggles between Indians and pioneer settlers, it once was termed the "Dark and Bloody Ground." As most of us know, it is generally called the "Blue Grass State" because of the dusty blue grass blossoms which carpet the rolling land of central Kentucky.

The Street Department this week opened Washington's Headquarters in Riverside Park for Miss Nan Livingstone's pupils from West Side School.

A Bruce High School delegation will visit the shrine next week.

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, said arrangements will be made to open the building for interested groups or individuals, but that arrangements should be made in advance whenever possible.

berland range is the state's highest point, an elevation of 4,150 feet. Other mountain ranges are the Pine and Black Mountains. With these mountains, it is not surprising that one fourth of the state is still covered with forests.

Kentucky also is bordered by the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers and has more than 3,000 miles of inland rivers. The Kentucky Dam at the conjunction of the Tennessee and Ohio Rivers at Paducah is the greatest of all the Tennessee authority's chain of dams.

Mammoth Cave

The Blue Grass State's greatest natural wonder is the Mammoth Cave. Coal mining is a major industry, tobacco leads the agricultural products and horses top livestock. There are many factories and mills and many sports fans are aware that the world's largest baseball bat manufacturing plant is at Louisville.

Kentucky has plenty of gold, too, what with Fort Knox serving as the repository for the gold reserves of the United States.

Famed for many things, Kentucky is perhaps best known as the home of the most popular sporting event in the United States—the Kentucky Derby, an annual event at Louisville's Churchill Downs ever since 1875. This race has centered attention on another Kentucky asset — her thoroughbred horses noted all over the world for their speed, strength and endurance.

The Blue Grass State has been in the forefront of educational endeavors and has 13 institutions of higher learning and more than 100 public libraries.

Great Kentuckians

Great men have dotted the history of Kentucky. It was Daniel Boone who first visited the region in 1767, returning eight years later to found the first settlement, called Boonesboro in his honor. Two United States presidents, Abraham Lincoln and Zachary Taylor, were natives of Kentucky, as was Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy.

Although he was born in Virginia, Henry Clay migrated to Kentucky at the age of 20 and represented the Blue Grass State in the days when he gained fame as one of America's greatest statesmen.

The state also was the birthplace of four vice-presidents of the United States, Richard M. Johnson.

Campers Seek 17th Win; Novelty Acts Are Added Feature

Westmont High School's basketball team comes here tonight to battle Allegany High at Campobello in the final game of their season series.

The Campers of Coach Walter L. Bowers hope to be able to take this one, the final on their regular 21-game schedule, to square accounts with the Pennsylvanians who bagged the opener on their home floor by the score of 75-66.

First Met In 1927

The Westmont-Allegany series was inaugurated in 1927 when Walter L. Bowers took over the coaching reins at Allegany. The schools have met twice annually in basketball with the exception of the years during the Second World War.

Bowers is completing his 27th season as cage mentor at Allegany while Engh has been at the helm in Westmont for 35 years.

Final Before Tourney

Westmont is reported to have won 15 and lost 5 prior to the game last night with Somerset. Allegany has scored 17 wins against three losses. Next Friday night at 7:30 Allegany plays Frederick High in the opening round of the Maryland District No. 1 tournament on the Fort Hill High School court.

Joe Stanislawczyk and Clifton Van Roy will officiate in tonight's game between the Johnstown and Allegany quints, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

Robey, Snyder and Miller rang up 40 points among them in Paw Paw's triumph over Capon Bridge. Richman led the Capon quint with nine points while Saville and Larick had eight each.

Mountaineers End Season, Win 58 To 50

Thompson Gets 22 Points For Winners; Shuck, Davis Star

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Beall High's Mountaineers closed out their 1952-53 season last night with a 58 to 50 triumph over the LaSalle Explorers before some 300 fans at SS. Peter and Paul gym.

Coach Eddie Finzel's rangy crew had just too much height for the smaller Explorers and took the lead at the opening whistle never to be headed.

Beall Wins 16th Game

The Frostburgers chalked up their 16th win in 21 games by sweeping their series with Coach Art Slocum's Explorers. Beall triumphed at Frostburg last Tuesday over LaSalle, 76-48. The loss was LaSalle's 8th in 23 starts. The Explorers will end their campaign next week at Mt. Savage.

Beall hopped off to a 2-0 lead on Alan LaPorta's goal and after Bill Dove's one-hander knotted the count at 2-2 all Paul Thompson goalied a pivot toss to put the Finzelmen ahead where they remained throughout the contest.

The Explorers made a fight of it, several times coming within one or two points of tying the score in the later stages of the game but Beall always had enough in reserve to pull away again.

Beall took an 18-14 lead at the close of the first quarter and steadily built the margin to 32-23 late in the second stanza. Here the skids lay. The Cadets took a sound trouncing at the hands of Montgomery Blair High of Silver Spring, 1952 state Class A champion, this week, 79-29, after losing their three previous games to Harpers Ferry, 81-64, Brunswick 36-35 and Hagerstown 44-39.

FREDERICK HIGH School's basketeers, who face Allegany in the opening round of next week's district tourney here, have hit the skids lately. The Cadets took a sound trouncing at the hands of Montgomery Blair High of Silver Spring, 1952 state Class A champion, this week, 79-29, after losing their three previous games to Harpers Ferry, 81-64, Brunswick 36-35 and Hagerstown 44-39.

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Boston Braves have appointed John Ogden, 55, of Oxford, Pa., as a full-time scout, reminds us of the time that Ogden got into a jam here with high school authorities for contacting a schoolboy pitcher while the latter was warming up before a game.

There was quite a fuss kicked up about the incident. In fact, the case was carried to the National Federation of High School headquarters in Chicago, and from there it was tossed into the lap of Commissioner "Happy" Chandler. Ogden was censured and that's all there was to it.

Ogden discovered Dave Cole, Williamsport, Md., pitcher, who is now with the Boston Braves.

Jack played pro ball for 18 seasons. He set an all-time International League pitching record of 213 victories against 92 losses for Jack Dunn's Baltimore Orioles. In the majors he was with the St. Louis Browns, Cincinnati, New York Giants and Phillies.

He will scout Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware.

Mark-Ye-Well Is Choice At Santa Anita

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 27 (UPI) — Calumet Farm's solid favorite, Mark-Ye-Well, headed a slender field of eight candidates named today to run in the classic Santa Anita, Handicap tomorrow for a purse that will amount to $135,000.

Calumet will be out to win its third $100,000 added purse of the waning season at Santa Anita, and Mark-Ye-Well will be shooting for his second such reward within a month.

The field, smallest since Calumet's great Citation scared off the opposition and held the lineup to 11 in 1950, listed but one mild surprise when the entries were dropped in the box this morning.

The name of Correspondent, a California-bred 3-year-old, who can carry the lightest load in the group—a mere 100 pounds—was entered. However, Mrs. Gordon Guberson of La Jolla, Calif., the owner, intimated the youngster might be scratched before the race.

The winner will collect a net of $97,900. Second, third and fourth places are worth $20,000 and $10,000 and $5,000.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 27—(INS)—Joan Crawford was surprised when I telephoned to ask if it's true she goes to Republic to make her first western "Johnny Guitar."

"How did you find out?" she asked from her dressing room at Paramount where she's readying "Lisbon." "Yes, it's true—and you can say it's my first western if you want to. I made one in 1925—but nobody but Tim McCoy and the horse remember it."

I asked Joan if her Republic sagebrush opus would be in "3-DTS" (as Jerry Wald calls it)—can't take credit for the crack myself."

"Could be," she laughed. "Anyway I report to Republic with Nick

Ray as my director right after I finish 'Lisbon'."

I can tell Lana Turner, if she doesn't already know, that she's going to have a mighty handsome leading man in "The Flame And The Flesh."

Carlos Thompson, brought here by Yvonne De Carlo, has been signed by MGM for the picture, which I hear tell, Joe Pasternak is producing. Carlos must be mighty good or Joe, who is a perfectionist, wouldn't put him in Lana's picture.

Carlos is one person who is grateful for help in his career, and he's made arrangements with MGM so that any time Yvonne wants him in a picture she can have him.

Although Charles Feldman is adamant in saying that he bought "Seven Year Itch" as a package for his clients, I would like to see Vanessa Brown get the role she created on the stage—Tom Ewell, too, for that matter. They are delightful.

But whoever Billy Wilder, producer-director of this comedy, easily the most popular show in New York, puts in as the stars, you may be sure they will do a good job. I enjoyed "Seven Year Itch," as much as any play I saw while I was in New York.

Much news about my friends in Europe from Terence Young, who is here for two weeks on business with Bob Goldstein. Terence tells me that he is looking for another actor to support Claudette Colbert in "That Lady," which will be made in Spain. Anton Walbrook has one of the top roles. "That Lady" starred Katharine Cornell about four years ago and is based on Kate O'Brien's story about Princess Eboli who lost an eye dueling. Terence tells me that Alan Ladd is starting another picture. He directed Alan in "Red Beret," now called "The Big Jump," and he says Alan will wait out his eighteen months.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Maybe it's love, maybe it isn't—but Elaine Stewart and Richard Anderson, two nice young people, are keeping the telephones busy.

Richard Burton and his wife gave out with Welsh folk songs, and he recited excerpts from "Richard III" to fantastic "hot" music.

I wonder if the Gary Coopers will reconcile? Maybe this long separation, which has given both of them time for a fling, will become tiresome.

Who do you think will be Rosemary Clooney's escort to the opening of her picture in New York? Her 19-year-old brother Nick, no less, and is he proud! Rosemary called to say farewell—she's off for New York and Detroit but she'll be back the middle of March.

Sheila Graham's bridegroom, W. S. Wojtkiewicz, is a recreation and athletic coach and does much charity training at boys clubs. He's good looking, of Polish ancestry, but he just has to change his name because no one can pronounce it.

Judy Garland and Sid Luft hosted a barrel party which was a barrel of fun for those young enough to get into the act.

Couldn't be happier for Rosalind Russell, who had a real triumph in New York with her play. Earl Blackwell telephoned she is a sensation. She would be—she was so great in Philadelphia and the play is so good.

"Sangaree" and "The Robe" are both in technicolor, and apparently so are most of the other 3-D's.

That's all today. See you Monday.

Dailey Will Probated
In Local Court

The will of Theodore Dayton Dailey, 58, who died Sunday in Hauger's Jewelry Store, North Centre Street, of a heart attack, was probated yesterday in Orphans Court.

His brother, William M. Dailey, 600 Kent Avenue, was named executor and his mother, Mrs. Lotis E. Dailey, 206 Arch Street, was named beneficiary.

Phosphorous, discovered in 1669, was adapted to matches in 1830.

Various and assorted beauty problems are answered in today's "Question Box." Is one, perchance, yours?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The problems, large and small, that beset feminine beauty drop into my mail box with a persistent regularity. Some of those which can be answered with brevity are condensed below:

Super quickies: 1. Moles and growths on the face are a doctor's problem and should be taken to one without delay. 2. Massage is not advisable where there are broken veins. 3. The reason why no brand names are recommended in this column is that space would not permit a fair evaluation. Suffice it to say that when you are in doubt as to the selection, ask the advice of your favorite store.

Beauty Problems

Now for a few only slightly longer:

Q. What can I do about the straggly wisps of hair at the nape of my neck?

A. Such wisps that grow no longer than two inches are a common heritage. But use neither a razor nor a hair remover on them or you may develop a stubble. If you dress your hair in lowcurls or a slick upswEEP at the nape of your neck, you can achieve a fluffy effect that combs into curly giving the stragglers a permanent on tiny rods. Or, you can curl them daily with a setting lotion and miniature curlers. Plastic hair sprays, small grip combs, colored to match your tresses—or a lick of damp soap in an emergency—are the answer to sleek hairdos.

Q. My hair was dark but I recently tinted it a golden shade. My eyes are brown. What makeup should I wear now?

A. The same as before you changed your hair coloring. Your powder and foundation should be

The Subject Of Violence

The subject again is violence, one of the hall marks of our time. In Chicago, television columnist Jack Mabley stirred up a hubbub by printing the results of a local survey which showed an incidence of some 295 violent crimes on children's programs on TV within one week.

The uproar from parents was horrendous.

The Dallas Smythe, of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters which has Ford Foundation money to spend, came out with

John Crosby another report which showed Chicago was just

Signs Certificates

Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), is seen last night signing the certificates of office of newly elected officers of Celanese Local 1874, TWUA. Watching the ceremony are Playford Aldridge (left), the retiring president, and Neil Toey, Cresap Park, who was installed as president of the local.

Big Business Cabinet Hit By Emil Rieve

TWUA Head Says U.S. Faces Stormy Times

Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers Union of America, (CIO), declared here last night the appointment of President Eisenhower's "millionaire cabinet" provides the communists with more ammunition than the Voice of America can undo in 10 years.

In an address following the installation of officers of Local 1874, Textile Workers of America, Rieve warned the road ahead is not a rosy one.

Today's economy, he said, is a spotty one, with full employment in defense industries and unemployment and short hours for suppliers of consumer goods.

Cites Farm Situation

All economists tell us, he added, that the present administration looks for some unemployment and that the country which has been engaged for 20 years in preventing unemployment has some doubts about such a policy.

He asserted he was not so sure that the "mink coat" policy is worse than giving away the nation's natural resources and raising interest rates.

Rieve termed the farm situation more acute than it has been since the '30s and charged the administration is not even making an attempt to do anything about it.

It is times like these that challenge men and women to show their leadership, Rieve concluded in asking the Celanese local to work for the good of the nation and a free world.

Obligates Officers

In a charge to the new officers, headed by Neil Toey, Cresap Park, Rieve asked that they try to make the right decisions and said that if the troubles are very big "lock yourself in your own room and consult your conscience and then decide without fear or favor."

Playford Aldridge, the outgoing president, served as master of ceremonies.

The new officers of the Celanese union were obligated by Rieve and Boyd E. Payton, Upper South director for the union and a former president of the local, presented certificates of office.

Following the installation ceremony, some 300 members of the union made plans for reopening the contract on March 8 for wage negotiations.

Driver Hurt As Truck Upsets

A heavy tractor-trailer truck rolled over at Franklin yesterday morning pinning its driver underneath for some time but he could be rescued.

The driver, Osborne Wilson, 39, of Hill Top, Westernport was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital at Keyser W. Va., in "fair" condition at 9:30 a.m.

His injuries were still undetermined late last night.

Wilson's truck reportedly slipped over an embankment and overturned, throwing him partly out of the cab and pinning him underneath.

The truck was owned by the Moran Coal Company of Westernport.

State Police Trooper Harry S. Bosley is investigating.

Join CAP Flight

Three Ridgeley youths, Ray Comer, Glenn Part and Ernest Samtry, joined Park and Cumberland Flight, CAP Cadets, this week. The cadets will hold a swimming party Monday at 7 p.m. in Central YMCA.

Westernport Miner Hurt By Rock Fall

A Westernport miner was seriously injured yesterday morning when rock fell and crushed his arm while he was working at the Brashear Mine, just across the Garrett County line from Westernport.

The miner, identified as Robert McDonald, 46, of Westernport, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital at Keyser, W. Va., with a badly crushed arm at 9:40 a.m. yesterday.

Attaches said he was in "fair" condition.

District Mine Inspector Harry A. Buckley of Kitzmiller said the accident occurred in the Brashear Mine of the William Brashear Coal Company at Aaron's Run near Westernport.

The mine, which was opened only recently, is a small drift operation which is usually worked by only three or four men at a time.

Details of the accident were unavailable last night, but Buckley said he understood that employees at the mine had been using a small auger machine to bore through the coal seam and undercut the coal.

A chunk of undercut rock and coal apparently broke loose from the seam and crushed McDonald's arm. It was reported that fellow miners dug him out and took him to the hospital.

Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, said his office would begin an investigation into the accident Monday.

Moose Legion Meets Sunday

A large class of new candidates will be initiated when Potomac Valley Legion No. 66, Loyal Order of Moose, holds a ceremonial at 2 p.m. Sunday at Charles Town, W. Va.

The class will honor Garrett Bane, who is past governor of the Charles Town lodge and is a holder of the fellowship degree and the governor's merit award.

Immediately after Sunday's meeting, a new membership campaign will be initiated and will run until mid-June. At that time a new class will be initiated in honor of Noble North Moose Russell L. Minnick in a ceremony at Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose. New officers also will be elected at the mid-June meeting.

Lodges belonging to the Potomac Valley Legion include Cumberland, Frostburg, Oakland, Piedmont, Keyser, Berkeley Springs, Moorefield, Romney and Charles Town.

Magistrates To Attend Meeting

Allegany County magistrate will attend a business luncheon meeting of the Magistrate Association of Maryland Saturday, March 7, at 12 noon in the main ballroom of the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore.

Guest speaker at the event will be Gov. Theodore E. McKeldin. Other key state officials also will be special guests.

Local members of the association who will attend are Magistrates J. Milton Dick, Alton C. Thompson, Morris Baron, Donald W. Mason and William Meagher.

Besides those members, many other county magistrates are expected to attend the meeting, the first this year. Officials said other interested persons wishing to attend the event should make reservations by contacting any member of the executive committee which is planning the affair.

On the committee are Alton C. Thompson, this city; Paul L. Sullivan and Stanley Scheer, all of Baltimore and John T. Farrell, Baltimore County. The committee has met twice in the past two weeks completing plans for the function and discussing other business.

The purpose of the state organization is to discuss and improve methods of magistrate courts and to attempt and adopt better and improved methods of procedure.

Street Workers Make Perfect Safety Record

Mrs. Roeder Says Program Pays Off

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, yesterday congratulated workers of that department for their 1952 safety record and added she was especially proud of the fact there were no motor vehicle accidents.

She spoke briefly at a Street Department Safety meeting held yesterday at 7 a.m. in the department's warehouse. She said the department's safety program is paying off.

Safety record charts have been provided by the insurance company to keep individual driver's record. Each month a green star is placed beside a driver's name for an accident-free month. A red star would denote a chargeable accident. These charts will be placed on the Warehouse safety bulletin board.

Will Award Pins

It has been decided to award each driver a lapel pin in recognition of a year's safe operation of vehicle. Five and ten year pins will be awarded for perfect records.

Andrew Heller, street superintendent, stressed the fact that it was only through complete cooperation of all men of the department that it was possible to establish the perfect driving record for the year. He suggested that similar awards be made to all men of the department for a perfect safety record on all jobs.

Inspections Are Held

The Safety Program in the Department was set up almost 18 months ago by Mrs. Roeder. This program includes a rotating safety committee, monthly safety inspections of equipment, building and tools, and monthly safety meetings with films and talks on safety.

Lynn Walker, inspector for the Maryland State Roads Commission, gave a short talk on vehicle operation, stressing the fact that it takes a car traveling 20 miles per hour 40 feet to stop.

A new type safety traffic film was shown. The film, "Sergeant Bruce Reporting," was loaned by Maryland State Police.

Another Baltimore delegate, James Welsh Jr., of the 2nd District, proposed in a resolution that the school superintendents consider discontinuance of the rule which now prevents children living with 1 1/2 miles of their school from taking a short cut on safety.

"Such instruction shall be non-sectarian," Hodges bill states. Pupils "whose religious beliefs conflict with such instruction may be excused from attending."

Another Baltimore delegate, Del. Tawny from Baltimore's 3rd District proposed in a resolution that the school superintendents consider discontinuance of the rule which now prevents children living with 1 1/2 miles of their school from taking a short cut on safety.

Easing of the sales tax on farm machinery was asked by six Eastern Shore delegates. They would be exempt from the tax any part of the purchase price represented by a trade-in of used machinery.

Del. See (R-Allegany) sought to stiffen the penalties for failing to stop after an accident in which a person is hurt or killed.

See proposed punishment of one to three years in prison or $200 to $1,000 fine. The present ranges are 30 days to one year and a minimum fine of $50.

Hearings Scheduled

Hearings on two Western Maryland bills have been scheduled in Annapolis during the week of March 9.

The class will honor Garrett Bane, who is past governor of the Charles Town lodge and is a holder of the fellowship degree and the governor's merit award.

Immediately after Sunday's meeting, a new membership campaign will be initiated and will run until mid-June. At that time a new class will be initiated in honor of Noble North Moose Russell L. Minnick in a ceremony at Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose. New officers also will be elected at the mid-June meeting.

A hearing on the $5,985,000 school construction bill for Allegany County has been tentatively scheduled for March 9.

The mining bill would regulate strip mining operations and define the duties and responsibilities of strip mining firms. The school bill, which provides for an expansion program affecting 14 schools, is sponsored by Allegany County's six delegates.

Bridge Bill Introduced

The county's delegation yesterday introduced a bill in the House to require the State Roads Commission to take over and maintain half of two bridges across the Potomac River at Luke and Pinto.

Charles M. See, head of the delegation, said the bill, introduced at the request of the Board of County Commissioners, would be referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Russell H. McCain, chairman of the State Roads Commission, has turned down the county's request for state maintenance of the Maryland share of each bridge. The county has been maintaining them, but the commissioners feel that since the State of West Virginia takes care of the other ends of the bridges, Maryland should maintain their side.

Expenses For Delegates

The House yesterday voted its members $600 expenses for this 90-day session. Besides their $1,800 annual salaries, the delegates in the past received only expenses for stationery and for one round trip between their homes and Annapolis at 20 cents a mile. These former expenses already paid are to be deducted from the $600.

Senators so far have made no move to boost their expense allowances. One delegate said they were ready to, but probably would await public reaction to the House move before reacting to it.

Jobless Pay Increase

The House gave tentative approval to increasing maximum unemployment compensation benefits from $25 to $30 a week.

The purpose of the state organization is to discuss and improve methods of magistrate courts and to attempt and adopt better and improved methods of procedure.
